

Philadelphia Service Trip, November 2018
Ezra Feilbogen

The Philadelphia community service trip was a new experience for me 'because it was first time I directly impacted the lives of underprivileged people. Seeing the expression on people's faces will be forever in my mind. I was really surprised to learn that Philadelphia was such a poor city. Also, I had a great time meeting new people on the trip and sharing the experience with them. In addition, the Shabbat service Saturday morning was a cool service to attend. This trip impacted my life a lot because I was able to help the community of Philadelphia who was in need. This trip will always stay with me because of how much it impacted me and many others. On this trip I learned how much it impacts others when helping volunteer in different parts of the city. I feel my effect on the trip was when we helped out by packaging goods and self-delivering them to their doors was very impactful and so was Cradle to Crayons as well. Finally, I think I would do another J-teen trip because they really do impact your life. I also would like to thank Guy, Ben, and Henry for organizing this wonderful trip.
